You slowly take it all in as you journey through Palm Springs, a fabled setting nestled in the pristine Coachella Valley. Maybe all you know of Palm Springs is its reputation as an exclusive destination for Hollywood celebrities, international jet-setters, notable socialites and many others of world-renown. Then you behold the majestic vistas.

Before you, cutting across the magnificently clear, cerulean sky, stands one of nature's wonders, Mount San Jacinto. Beneath this rugged prominence lies Doral Palm Springs, a welcome oasis in an increasingly fast-paced business world. You've found it: a harmonious setting where you can conduct important business while perfecting your golf swing and back hand. A spectacular resort quite removed from bustling city noises, yet within minutes of Palm Springs Airport and two short hours from Los Angeles.

At Doral Palm Springs, business doesn't just take on a whole new meaning, it becomes more meaningful. And much more agreeable.
